This course specification provides a summary of the main features of the course, identifies the aims and learning outcomes of the course, the teaching, learning and assessment methods used by teaching staff, and the reference points used to inform the curriculum.

This information is therefore useful to potential students to help them choose the right course of study, to current students on the course and to staff teaching and administering the course.

Further detailed information on the individual modules within the course may be found in the relevant module descriptors and the Course Handbook provided to students on enrolment.

Please refer to the Course and Module Catalogue for further information on the course structure and modules.

Educational aims of the Course

BA (Hons) International Business Communication seeks to:

- Provide students with a sound understanding of English language so that they can operate confidently and effectively in the field of International Business Communication
- Engage learners in using English for the purposes of understanding, expression and communication in written, oral and aural forms and in the field of International Business
- Enable learners to apply their knowledge of English in a professional context for the purposes of international business communication
- Develop awareness of and sensitivity to the importance of culture in communication in the context of International Business

With English as the target language (TL), the programme seeks to engage students in:

- learning all four basic language skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking)
- understanding language structures (grammar)
- acquiring vocabulary and idiom
- developing English language skills to enable them to fully benefit from their subject study
- an appreciation of Anglophone (or other foreign) culture and linguistic conventions
- To provide students with the opportunity to develop key skills
- To provide students with the opportunity to develop business communication skills
- To provide students with the skills and knowledge required to maximise careers and postgraduate study opportunities in the context of changing labour markets

Course Learning Outcomes and Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategies

The Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education \(QAA\) sets out a national framework of qualification levels, and the associated standards of achievement are found in their Framework for Higher Education Qualifications document.

The Course Learning Outcomes for this course are outlined in the tables below.

A. Knowledge and understanding of:
LO number	Learning outcome	Learning and Teaching methods	Assessment methods
A1	One or more aspects of the cultures, history, institutions, linguistic context, social and economic structures of the societies of the country/countries of the target language	These outcomes are developed through a combination of lectures, seminars, laboratory work, individual tutorials and workshops. Delivery method varies based on the topics being covered and the nature of the relevant modules.	A wide range of assessment methods and techniques are used ranging from portfolio and course work projects (both group and individual) to the use of examinations. Learning outcome A3 is assessed by submission of an individual research project. The topic of the project is related to the content of the course.
A2	Specialist knowledge of appropriate structures, registers, forms, terminology and usage associated with English language in a business context.
A3	Display specialist knowledge in the area researched for the independent Project.
A4	The relevant knowledge & understanding of organisations, the external environment in which they operate and how they are managed.
A5	Pervasive issues relevant to international business including sustainability, globalisation and diversity.

B. Cognitive (Intellectual or Thinking) skills, able to:
LO number	Learning outcome	Learning and Teaching methods	Assessment methods
B1	Demonstrate critical understanding of contributory disciplines and theories, and the capacity to assess & compare the merits of different approaches.	These outcomes are developed predominantly through workshops, seminars and individual tutorials and rely on both individual work and group performance.	These outcomes are assessed largely through coursework (presentations (both individual and group), reports, case study analysis, website design, etc.). The Project is assessed via submission of the literature review and the full research paper in TB2.
B2	Communicate information, ideas and arguments cogently and coherently, both orally and in writing, with due regard to the target audience.
B3	Identify and analyse problems using relevant approaches, and reflect on the scope and limitations of what has been ascertained and understood.
B4	Demonstrate awareness of a diverse range of relevant information and research resources.
B5	Effective problem -solving and decision -making using appropriate quantitative and qualitative skills including identifying, formulating & solving business problems

C. Practical (Professional or Subject) skills, able to:
LO number	Learning outcome	Learning and Teaching methods	Assessment methods
C1	Communicate fluently and appropriately, maintaining a high degree of grammatical accuracy, in the target language with competent or native speakers of the target language	A combination of lectures, seminars and workshops is used to achieve these learning outcomes. Some of the content units of specialisation use a case study approach with group discussions and individual presentations are used to analyse business specific problems.	Examinations and course works (including individual and group presentations and reports) are used to assess this group of learning outcomes. Oral assessments, presentations and portfolios are also used for both content and language units.
C2	Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the structures, registers and, as appropriate, varieties of the target language
C3	Exploit for a variety of purposes and, as appropriate, to contextualise a broad range of materials written or spoken in the target language
C4	Apply effectively & appropriately their language skills in a professional context
C5	Appreciate the similarities and differences between areas of the world, thus fostering cross-cultural and international perspectives

D. Transferrable (Graduate and Employability) skills, able to:
LO number	Learning outcome	Learning and Teaching methods	Assessment methods
D1	Communicate information, ideas and arguments with clarity, coherence & persuasiveness	Wide range of methods and techniques are used to achieve this learning outcome. These include, seminars and group discussions, group laboratory research sessions, presentations, reflective analysis of the group and individual performance, individual and group tutorials, etc.	Both formative and summative assessments are used for this group of learning outcomes. The assessment methods range from individual to group projects that fall into the coursework framework, to individual portfolios, presentations and research projects.
D2	Gather, process and evaluate critically information from a variety of paper, audio-visual and electronic sources
D3	Utilise proficiently a range of IT resources, including word processing, email, databases, text files, and internet sites
D4	Work independently & to deadlines within a guided framework, with a capacity to define problems/questions and know how to set about finding answers
D5	Monitor own learning, progress and performance
			Opportunities for formative assessment are offered at all levels

Changes to your course/modules

The University of Portsmouth has checked the information provided in this Course Specification and will endeavour to deliver this course in keeping with this Course Specification. However, changes to the course may sometimes be required arising from annual monitoring, student feedback, and the review and update of modules and courses.

Where this activity leads to significant changes to modules and courses there will be prior consultation with students and others, wherever possible, and the University of Portsmouth will take all reasonable steps to minimise disruption to students.

It is also possible that the University of Portsmouth may not be able to offer a module or course for reasons outside of its control, for example, due to the absence of a member of staff or low student registration numbers. Where this is the case, the University of Portsmouth will endeavour to inform applicants and students as soon as possible, and where appropriate, will facilitate the transfer of affected students to another suitable course.
